FOREWORD

The acquisitive trade of narcotics has intricately extensive international linkages. Despite the improved drug interdiction tools the drug trade is prevalent across the globe. Drug trafficking is spread over a complete chain of activities starting from production, processing, storage/ bulk breaking, concealment for trafficking through various means of transportation etcetera till it reaches the consumer. Concealment is one of the most significant activities for undetected trafficking of drugs especially once it has to travel through various modes of transportation and across the borders. This is the stage where the drug traffickers are exposed the most due to involvement of third party i.e the concealment experts.

Drug traffickers employ innovative methods of concealment to deceive law enforcement agencies and their means of detection. ANF, the front line agency to control drug trafficking through its territory quite frequently comes across new methods of concealment. We as Counter Narcotics Agency feel it imperative to share our experiences with our partners for successful fight against the drugs globally. Effort has been made to share glimpses of concealment methods used during years 2013 and 2014. I am sure this will help our friends across the community for successful campaign against the drugs without being surprised by the ingenious and innovative methods of concealment in practice.
